

Fertile Heart™ Presents

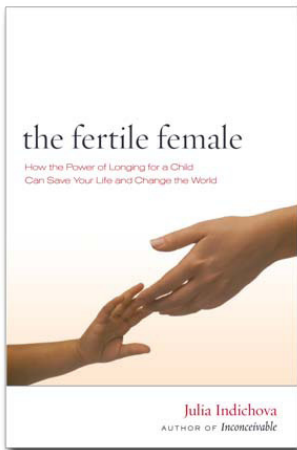

Teleconference for Health and Wellness Practitioners

“Not only did this work help me conceive at age 43, after six miscarriages, it also changed the way I live my life and practice medicine.”

— Susan Gunduz, M.D. pediatrician, Northport, NY USA

Birth or Manufacture: Supporting Your Clients on the Road to Parenthood

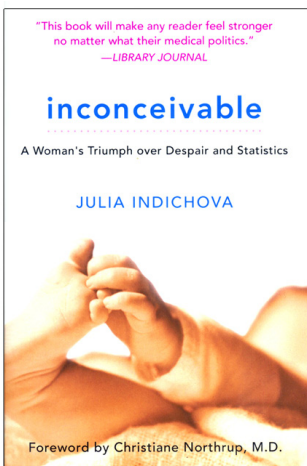

Teleconference for Health and Wellness Practitioners Interested in Expanding Their Work with Fertility-Difficulties

With author, fertility educator and activist, Julia Indichova

The Fertile Heart™ OVUM Process is an original mind/body program which evolved out of Julia Indichova’s personal experience and through her work with thousands of women and men in her workshops, and private practice. In the last decade and a half the program has helped bring healthy babies into the world often after years of failed treatment.

www.fertileheart.com, is one of the few independent fertility related advocacy groups in the US, offering a wide range of support services including: Guest Teacher Teleconferences with Reproductive Endocrinologists from institutions such as the Weil Medical College of Cornell University, New York University Medical Center; talks with Holistic and Integrative Healthcare providers such as Naturopaths, Herbalists and more. Fertile Heart™ also offers ongoing phone-support-circles for US residents as well as circles for European and International participants.

The Fertile Heart™ International Leadership Institute offers an online training program for health professionals and lay people, interested in leading circles in their communities. Julia Indichova’s work and story have been featured on the The Oprah Winfrey Show, Good Morning America, Oxygen, NPR’s 51%, in Natural Health, San Francisco Chronicle, Health magazine, USA Weekend, and other outlets.

For more information contact info@fertileheart.com

www.fertileheart.com
